says as a member of this Legislature or you are going to go by what the Declaration of Independence says that it is your right, it is your duty to alter or to abolish a government, if you feel that its operations are destructive to your rights as citizens. John Adams, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, all of these people advocated revolution in no uncertain terms, perhaps because they were fresh out of a revolution, some of them, and they couldn't disavow it like it is disavowed by this country now when it was born out of a revolution. Perhaps there should be a revolution every generation or every two or three generations to make those who rule realize that they don't rule by divine right. So if Senator Lewis' amendment is going to strengthen this resolution, this, whatever it is, then I am going to vote for Senator Lewis' amendment because I do want a Constitutional Convention. So I want to ask him a question, if he will answer it. Senator Lewis, will the adoption of your amendment cause you to support the entire whatever it is we are voting on.

SENATOR LEWIS: Absolutely. I would think that if we could adopt this that this would be the greatest thing since sliced bread.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you. I am going to support any amendment that anybody offers to this resolution, if they do it with the assurance to me, offer the amendment with the assurance given that it will cause them to support the resolution. Understand this, citizens of Nebraska and members of the Legislature, why do you fear the people? Why do you fear them? Alexander Hamilton one time said, the people are like a great brute of horse, bridled and saddled waiting to be ridden. Well, if they are ignorant, the Legislature created the education system in Nebraska. If ignorance is maintained, it is what you want. Well, since people are encouraged to vote out of their ignorance, let them restructure the government out of their ignorance. Who says that you have to be educated to create a government? Who says that? Why should you have to be? Who says that you have to know what you are talking about to cast a vote? It takes less to be President of this country than it does to be President of AT&T or Chairman of the Board. So I would have to conclude from that that AT&T has more important business than the government of the United States of America, but when you strip away everything that I have said that you may disagree with, keep this one thing in mind. There is a difference between unanimity, consensus and majority rule. Majority rule is often tyranny. Majority rule is often ignorance, but if that is what you want and if that is what you feel the people are entitled to and if you feel your responsibility is to reflect ignorance rather than to inform yourself on the issues and make the best judgments you can, then vote for ignorance. I happen to feel that the convening of a Constitutional Convention is going to be given over to people attempting to represent and reflect the ignorance that pervades this country. In all seriousness when you read reports about the inferior
